What is this man's problem? Write a story from his point of view.

- My name is _____ (make up a name for him).
- Write the story in the first person singular ("I").
- The story will need a beginning, middle and an end.
- Have him answer who, what, where, when, why when he is telling the story.
- Use connectives. For example: after that, by then, however, meanwhile, consequently, therefore, afterwards.